MAGNIFICENT OVATION WAS TENDERED RALPH CAMERON

A Splendid and Enthusiastic Gathering of His Fellow Citizens Welcomed to the Capital City of this Territory the Man Who, Above All Others, Secured the Priceless Boon of Statehood.

IT WAS A GENUINE LOVE FEAST WHICH DREW THE PEOPLE FROM EVERY SECTION

There Were Many Eloquent and Stirring Speeches and the Only Disappointment Was the Enforced Absence of Governor Richard E. Sloan, who was Called to Prescott by the Serious Illness of His Wife.

Fully in keeping with plans and expectations, Phoenix last night witnessed the largest political meeting ever held in Arizona and one in which the interest of those assembled was as keenly alive as on the occasion of any former meeting, large or small. It was primarily a welcome home to Ralph Cameron, Arizona's delegate who secured statehood, but it was more than that. It was the occasion of the personal announcement by both Mr. Cameron and Richard E. Sloan, of their candidacy for the United States senate. Moreover it was a grand conference of the leading republicans of Arizona with a mass meeting of the people of the biggest city in Arizona, over matters of vital political importance, following a day of notable conferences by county and territorial committee leaders.

But there was one disappointment. The events of yesterday were largely undertaken on the initiative of Governor Sloan. He appointed the committee that arranged so successfully for the big meeting of last night and was scheduled for one of the principal addresses. But at a late hour yesterday he was apprised of the illness of Mrs. Sloan in Prescott and left for that town on the evening train. His address had been prepared in manuscript and Mayor Lloyd Christy read it. The audience had the benefit of the address, but it missed the governor's personality and the impromptu remarks that would have accompanied it, while the governor missed the secular evidence of the glorious result of plans he had been instrumental in devising.

It is true to speak of red fire and hurrah at a political meeting but last night's demonstration was such an unusual one that it is a legitimate part of the news of the event. Red fire in bulk and in candle form conventional for firing, illuminated the entire business section from an early hour in the evening until the meeting was over, reflecting picturesque shadows on the background of the thousands of flags with which the city was decorated. Electric lights in myriad number hung in festoons across the city plaza and the city hall and band stand were tastefully decorated in the national colors. An immense platform was built in front of the city hall, large enough to accommodate perhaps a hundred speakers from outside points territory, together with committee men and guests. From early in the evening until the speaking began the Pioneer band and the Industrial Liberty band paraded the streets and furnished music to the assembling thousands, some 1500 of whom had appropriated the seats arranged in front of the stand long before the speaking began. It was not only the largest political meeting ever held in Phoenix but those who attended did so with greater comfort than on any former occasion. And to crown it all the weather was ideal, in auspicious contrast to that of the former meetings when the opposing political cohorts have held forth.

The Speaking
J. C. Adams, chairman of the committee of arrangements, performed the duties of chairman. He made no long speech but couched his introductions in appropriate, humorous and timely phrases. The first speaker was Mayor Lloyd B. Christy, representing Governor Sloan. The governor's paper dwelt largely with the proclamation which he issued yesterday and gave fitting response to criticisms and strictures that have been made by interested opposing parties, on his seeming delay. It is quite satisfactorily explanatory to one who cares to be fair and demonstrates that the governor's purpose was not to favor any party but to protect all parties by a careful following of the law. Later his address pays fine testimonials to President Taft, Delegate Cameron and to the citizenship of the territory, calling attention to the high responsibilities that rest upon the people at this time. Owing to the demand upon the columns of The Republican it is impossible to publish the governor's address in this issue but it will be printed in full tomorrow morning and its perusal will be food for thought by every right minded reader.

The next speaker was John S. Williams, district attorney of Cochise county, a fine looking and a fine talking gentleman whom gossip has connected very closely with the position of representative in the lower house, from Arizona. Mr. Williams has the

CHURCH OR ROCK PILE, SAYS THE LEARNED JUDGE

REDLANDS, Cal., Sept. 20.—Church once a week for six months, is the sentence hereafter to be imposed by Justice Peter McIver on all who come before him on inebriate charges. The justice says that these persons no good, and now he will try the other extreme. If any feel they do like to go to church unaccompanied, the justice says he will go with them. If they don't go at all, they will go on the rock pile.

PREMIER AND BORDEN ARE BOTH SATISFIED

It is Generally Conceded, However, That Laurier Will Win in Election of Today.

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—The eve of election finds the interest intense in Canada. Tomorrow will settle the question of reciprocity, and also the question of the leadership of Laurier, who for fifteen years has led the liberals to victory. Conservative estimates place the government victory at 19 to 26, while the liberal press claims 50 in the next house. It is conceded the key to the situation is held in the province of Quebec, which always rolled up a huge majority for Laurier. This year, however, a coalition exists between the conservatives and nationalists, which makes the size of the government plurality somewhat doubtful. Both Premier Laurier and the opposition leader, Borden, declare they are satisfied with the campaign, and predict a victory for their party.

HEROIC WIFE TRIES TO SAVE HUSBAND

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 20.—The wife of Francisco Hernandez, the Mexican accused of murder, walked 250 miles across the desert mountains from Needles to this city to tell the district attorney her husband is not guilty. She said the crime to another man. She was on the verge of collapse when she reached this city today. Officials, however, say the sacrifice of the wife is unavailing as they say her husband is guilty and will be convicted.

MADRID IS QUIET.

MADRID, Sept. 20.—The capital is quiet today. Orders for the arrest of workmen's committees and political agitators have been given the police, and more than three hundred arrests have been made. The general strike planned for today has been called off and the railways are running as usual. Valencia still remains a source of danger, but 2500 troops are said to be ready to sweep the streets at an instant's warning if an outbreak occurs.

CHINESE CITY SAFE.

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—"Cheng Tu safe, station under government control." This cablegram was received today at the headquarters of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society from Tse Chow, in the disturbed district of western China. The cable is dated September 19.

KIMMEL WOMAN STICKS TO COIN

Declares Return of Son is a Scheme to Cheat Her of Life Insurance Funds.

NILES, Mich., Sept. 20.—The strange controversy over the identification of George A. Kimmel, who represents himself as a man long supposed to be dead, was further complicated today. Though dozens of townspeople identify him as Kimmel, his mother refuses to be convinced. After a long interview today, she refused to recognize in him her long-lost son. She claims he is an impostor, who is trying to prevent the payment of $25,000 life insurance. Kimmel, to test his acquaintance in Niles, was taken over the city today and pointed out many landmarks and related former incidents which the people said were correct.

BAKER SAYS THEY WILL BUILD SHIPS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, a director in the A. and P. Transportation company, whose firm is bidding for a contract from the Atlantic to the Pacific via the Panama canal, said today if his company is successful in its bid, which will be opened November 25, it will mean the building of fifteen sixteen-knot vessels to ply between the two coasts via the canal.

DRUG DISPENSER STANDS UNDER A MURDER CHARGE

KISSIMEE, Fla., Sept. 20.—Egbert Gillespie, a member of the Shaker colony who, with Elizabeth Sears, another Shaker, is alleged to have given chloroform to Sadie Merchant, a member of the sect, who was dying with tuberculosis, was today held for murder by the coroner's jury. No mention was made of the Sears woman in the verdict.

FIEND DOES BLOODY WORK

Two Families, With the Exception of a Single Person, Were Murdered by Mysterious Man Who Used An Axe.

GRUESOME CRIME IS WELL EXECUTED

Bloodthirsty Fiend Left Not a Single Trace by Which There is Any Hope That He Can Be Detected.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 20.—The bodies of six persons were found in two neighboring houses today, murdered by some unknown person, who had used an axe. There were three corpses in each house. The heads were all smashed in and indications they had all been slain while they slept. They have been dead several days.

The dead are: Alice May Burnham, who was once cook at the Modern Woodmen sanitarium, and her two children, Alice, aged six, and John, aged three; Henry F. Wayne, a constable; Mrs. Wayne and her year-old baby girl.

The axe was found on the doorstep of the Wayne home. The discovery of the murders was made by a neighbor who called at the Burnham home to spend the afternoon sewing. That such a crime could be committed in a thickly settled part of the neighborhood and left unrevealed several days is regarded as incredible.

Not even a footprint was found on the floor of either house and no one can be found who had seen any one at either house within the past week. No motive is known. Both families had but moderate means. Burnham was arrested after the discovery of the crime, but there seems no evidence to connect him with the murders. His employers say he was at work when the crimes must have been committed.

WARSHIP HIT SEA PALACE

The Olympic, the Largest Passenger Steamer Afloat Was Rammed By English Cruiser and Slightly Damaged.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The steamer Olympic, the largest passenger ship in the world, and the British cruiser Hawke were in collision in the Solent channel this morning. The steel prow of the warship struck the big liner on the starboard, and for a time the water rushed in.

AN UNFAILING INDEX.

The want ads are an unfailing index of the needs of the people, they reflect the desires and ambitions of men and women in every walk of life and tell in short, concise sentences what is most needed in every industry, every branch of business, as well as enumerating the requirements of hundreds of households.

What other section of the newspaper could contain so much of interest to the employe, the business man, the landlord, the tenant, the housewife, the servant, the buyer, the seller—all look to the wants with common interest, seeking mutual benefit to all.

The wants are the market place of the people—the great open forum where all may meet for the transaction of profitable business.

MATT WELLS ANGELS WEEP WINS AGAIN CYNICS LAUGH

Gets the Popular Decision Over Abe Attell in a Fast and Clever Contest at the Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Abe Attell, featherweight champion, tried the impossible tonight by conceding about thirteen pounds weight to the English lightweight champion, Matt Wells. The Britisher being as clever as the American at every move had the call almost from the start won handily. It was a fast, clean, clever exhibition, with no bloody features. The fight was a handicap match and Attell was given credit for the same and he made against his heavier opponent.

Wells led first, placing a straight left to the face, and later two more in the same place, getting a light return. Both missed hard swings at long range and were sparing at the belt.

In the second round Wells was first to land, placing his left to the head. Attell was short on two fists but got in a straight right to the chin, both men fighting rough. Attell seemed wild, missing several wicked rights.

In the third Wells kept up the straight lefts to the face, Attell replying with rights which did not get to the mark. Suddenly Wells cut loose a succession of lefts to the body and forced Attell to the ropes, but the latter worked out, fighting hard at the belt.

The fourth round showed conclusively that Wells is the master of Attell at boxing, though no hard blows were exchanged, and in the fifth Wells sent Attell's head back with a left, sailing, getting first blood. Attell fought viciously, but was not able to get through Wells' defense. So far Wells had a shadow of every round. The sixth saw Abe get a hard rap over the head which sent him back, but he jumped into a clinch. At the break Wells forced the blood again from Abe's mouth, but here Attell got in three hard rights to the body and head and a right uppercut to the jaw. Both were mixing hard at the end.

In the seventh Attell warmed up by sending four straight lefts to the face without a return and forcing Wells to the ropes, where both were cautioned for holding. Wells evaded up matters near the end of the round by brilliant footwork.

The eighth and ninth were a repetition of former rounds, Wells getting in several lefts to the body and out-boxing Attell at all stages.

The tenth round, however, was a different matter. Wells rushed and put two hard lefts to the head and clinched and then broke away, landing a left on the body. He repeated this a moment later, outfighting Attell and getting much the better of a rapid exchange. Attell, however, was right up to the mark, wanting more, and was fighting fast and furious, but hopelessly, with a much heavier man. The popular decision was given to Wells.

KILLED IN CRASH.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21.—Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific passenger trains crashed into each other at the eastern boundary of the city early this morning. It is reported that one is killed and several injured.

CASE HAS A NEW FEATURE

Attorneys for the Prosecution Claim An Important Witness in McNamara Case Has Recently Disappeared.

DARROW'S RELATIVE FIGURES IN AFFAIR

It is Alleged, Too, Sensational Charge Will Be Made by San Francisco Paper Regarding Peddling of Evidence.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—The sudden departure from Albuquerque, N. M., of a man said to be an important witness for the prosecution in the McNamara dynamite case, was reported to the state attorney's office by wire today.

The man is D. K. Dickelman, who was formerly night clerk at the New Baltimore hotel, Los Angeles. A man named Hammerstrum, a Chicago newspaper man, and a brother-in-law of Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the McNamaras, is alleged to be interested in the leaving of New Mexico by Dickelman.

Darrow admitted his brother-in-law was sent to see Dickelman to ascertain what he knew, but he declared no other advances were made to him. Darrow does not believe Dickelman has been summoned or will be summoned as a witness in the case by the prosecution. In any event he is out of California and cannot be forced to come here to testify if he does not want to come. Dickelman is said to have been clerk at the hotel at the time of the explosion, and that within an hour after a man registered there as J. B. Bryce, Dickelman is said to have recognized J. B. McNamara as the man who registered at the hotel as Bryce.

Attorney John L. Harrington, who was cited for contempt for alleged tampering with the prosecution's witnesses, arrived in the city today from San Francisco. Attorneys for the defense held a conference late today, and said they will probably give out a statement dealing with the charge by the prosecution that they are attempting to interfere with the state's witnesses.

Also, it is said, they have an affidavit by Fremont Older, proprietor of the San Francisco Bulletin, which supports the contention of the defense. The affidavit is said to sustain the defense's claim that efforts have been made to peddle testimony to the Endicott. It was semi-officially announced today that the trial of the McNamaras will occur on the third floor of the hall of records building, where there are large rooms, affording better accommodations than can be had in the smaller court rooms.

GEN. SHERMAN'S SON ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Was Brilliant Orator, But of Late Has Suffered a Complete Breakdown of Nervous System.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 20.—Rev. Father Thomas E. Sherman, son of the famous Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, who led the march from Atlanta to the sea, was committed to the asylum for the insane at Agnew today, following an attempt at suicide. He is one of the most brilliant orators of the Jesuit order. He has been ill several years, and lately his nervous system suffered a complete breakdown. He talked rationally to physicians and said he is willing to go to the asylum in order to receive careful treatment.

DETROIT STREET CAR STRIKE CALLED OFF

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 20.—Following hours of conference tonight between Judge Phelan, for the striking employe, and official of the Detroit Union Railway, Phelan submitted to the men an offer of settlement handed him by the company. It is believed the strike will be settled before morning. Later tonight the strike was called off. Employees accepted the new wage schedule of 25 cents per hour for the first six months, 27½ cents for the next year and 29½ cents thereafter.
